MRS. L. S. ADAMS,
Of Galveston, Texas.

"Wine of Cardui is indeed a blessing to tired women. Having suffered for seven years with weakness and bearing-down pains, and having tried several doctors and different remedies with no success, your Wine of Cardui was the only thing which helped me, and eventually cured me. It seemed to build up the weak parts, strengthen the system and correct irregularities."

By "tired women" Mrs. Adams means nervous women who have disordered menses, falling of the womb, ovarian troubles or any of these ailments that women have. You can cure yourself at home with this great women's remedy, Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui has cured thousands of cases which doctors have failed to benefit. Why not begin to get well today? All druggists have $1.00 bottles. For any stomach, liver or bowel disorder Thedford's Black-Draught should be used.

"Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

CRIME OF THE TRAMP

By Leo Crane

Copyright, 1902, by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate

It stood upon the banks of a gentle river, a fishing village of great modesty. The morning sun would toss its beauties out upon the waters of a mild lagoon. The roadways were of shells that had been pounded into powder of the whitest. Old fashioned cottages lined the streets, their porches festooned with climbing roses whose sweet scent wedded the lavish perfume of wandering honeysuckle and set forth to meet the fresh smell of the bay.

Upon the shore was a little shipyard all covered with chips and darkened driftwood. Rotting ways bathed their feet in the greenish water, and about them played the children they had given birth, a myriad of small boats upon the sleeping waves. One of these belonged to a higher caste than the others. There was a clean coat upon it, and proudly it rode to a well made mooring. When the breeze would swing it slowly, the old man seated upon a last stretch of the ways could read its name.

"Mary!" he commented slowly, removing the pipe from his mouth and puffing out a cloud of grayish smoke. Then, turning to a man close by, he asked:

"D'ye s'pose why 'tis named Mary?"

"He's sweet on Mary Harte," said the other without displaying a bit of interest in anything save the chip he was whittling.

"Oh!" remarked the old one, grinning to himself and sticking the pipe back into his mouth, proving a bit of sentiment could not lure him from the habit. "Yere he comes now."

"He's got his oars along," said the other, looking across the quiet space of water. "D'ye s'pose he's goin' out?"

"Reckon so, but 'tain't lookin' much out there on the bay. Gittin' a pesky fog up, I'm thinkin'." And the old man grunted at the foolishness of it. "Why in thunder don't he stay at home for onct? O' late he's out on that stream most o' his time."

"S'pose he wants to git married," suggested the companion, cutting a large section off the chip with a contemptuous flourish of the knife. "He's another one o' these danged fules. But these youngsters won't listen to no reason. There's that feller breakin' his back summer an' winter, sunshine an' bad weather, come better or worse, all so's he can scrape enough together to buy a peck o' trouble."

"Well, I can see through it in a way," admitted the whittler meditatively, "'cause when I was young an' necessarily foolish I had the same thing in mind fer quite a spell. But Hank Jordan—ye know Hank—well, he gotter ahead o' me an' married the woman. Then I says to myself, 'I'll see what's in this game,' says I. So, by jing, Hank starts in to make a livin' fer a fambly o' two, me havin' a quiet, peaceable time all the while, but 'fore he was through he was workin' like a plow horse in a muddy furrow, tryin' to swim with six kids' store bills on his back. The on'y things I had to owe fer durin' that same space o' time was my terbacker an' one shirt, 'cause, ye know, I'm not hard on clothes. But Hank Jordan bought enough clothes to cover a regiment, an' while they'd be showin' 'em in the street Hank'd be sittin' in the back yard, with a bit o' chalk an' a board, tryin' to figger out how to stave off the rent. I never could see the sense o' it. In the las' nine years I've on'y had the chilblains an' the quinsy, but Hank Jordan had everything from mumps to milk rash—not him, ye know, but them as he was mainly responsible fer."

The man across the way tossed a pair of oyster tongs down into the clean boat and whistled for a ragged looking dog playing about the town's edge. Then, with it beside him at the tiller, he ran up the small sail and steered out into the mist of the river marshes. An hour's run brought him over the ledges, where with a sounding splash the stone anchor was dropped, and down, down, down went the hungry tongs for the first clutch. Down on the sandy ledges he hoped to find his happiness and wrench it from the bottom. There was a scissorslike motion of the long arms, a twisting, tearing, sucking grapple of the teeth; then up, up, up, came the swaying poles, the water trickling back over the hands that hauled, and with a noisy clatter the catch of grimy things was dumped into the boat's bottom, and so on through the long day, sometimes staring stupidly out over the gray shifting desert at a passing steamer slowly plodding up the channel or eying in silent wonder a yacht sweeping silently and swiftly by his little craft.

It was in the afternoon. The boat was half filled with muddy shells.

"Lemme see, Regs," said the man. "What's the date terday? The 10th? So it is. 'Tain't agoin' to be very long now, Regs." He slowly counted a number of deep scratches upon the thwart. Some of them were crossed over with a counter scratch. There were nine not tallied. He got out a knife and rudely crossed another. "Eight more days to wait," he muttered—"eight more days."

"Then won't there be a fine time, Regs?" he commenced gayly. The dog cocked his head sideways and whined an appreciation. "The whole village 'll talk o' it, an' the place 'll be fine. Goin' to have Sam Lawder's house—that new un—an' there'll be a sea scene over the door an' a raft o' curiosities on the mantel, 'sides rockin' chairs an' sofeys an' all that sort o' thing. But, say, Regs, derned if I ever see such a fog as is gittin' up." The man peered off into the dense yellow cloak that had shut down upon him silent and awesome. He pulled up the anchor and started to row home.

The dull, monotonous clang of a lighthouse bell came at intervals from somewhere. He knew not exactly where. He was getting bewildered in this smoky cloud of fog. Then he rested upon the oars, letting the boat drift, and listened intently for the mysterious note of the bell. It was farther off—it seemed so—and which way?

Suddenly a strange, humming noise reached him—wind or— He fished hurriedly into a side locker for a horn and sent two long, harsh blasts across the unknown waters. A loud, swishing sound could be heard, growing nearer, above a babble of impotent noise. A bell rang, and the hoarse cry of a siren brought him terror. About the boat were only the moving mass of cloudland and a few feet of lapping water—no heaven, no other thing but that, motionless, and the sobbing noise. The man screamed shrilly, feebly, "Aboard there!"

Then a great, dense shape loomed up out of the sea like a ruthless grasping hand to crush him. Immense, terrible, it towered a moment over the boat. There was a crunch of splintering wood, a weak excited bark of a frightened dog, a despairing wail from a man, and a white wave of foam dripped back from the beak of the monster. It passed on with a rushing roar, satisfied. A burst of clanging and clanking came from the silence and died away again. A belch of reddish fire lighted for an instant the yellow pall and then left it as before. The thing dissolved like a ghost in the mist. The waves churned for a moment a rag of canvas. Then everything disappeared, and the silence settled down as the quiet of eternity.

The whitecapped waves raced and tossed for a time, worrying some little bits of splintered wood. Then they began again the old, old chant, sighing mournfully in tune with the twilight breeze, slowly lifting the fog. Off in the distance a single point of light glimmered mistily, pointing the way home. The winds told the tale to the shores in the black watches of the night.

An old man who had once again claimed his seat by the rotting ways fished from the tossing lips of the water a bit of board.

"What's this?" he asked of another who occupied himself cutting a piece of chip. They examined it curiously together.

"Looks like the thwart o' a boat," said the man.

"Here—here! What's them marks?" pointing at a number of rude scratches in the wood.

"I dunno," said the other, slowly shaking his head in doubt. "Never saw them on a boat's thwart before. There's eight o' 'em not tallied. See! Wonder if that's got anything to do with it!"

Chosen by Proxy.

The man whose long suffering sister has always selected all his gifts for friends at Christmas, on birthdays and for weddings has recently passed through an experience which makes him feel that he must mend his ways.

Not long ago he went to pay a wedding call and expressed much admiration for the silver and china on the 5 o'clock tea table at which his pretty hostess was pouring tea.

"Which cup do you like best?" she asked him archly. "Tell me, and you shall have your tea in it."

He looked helplessly at her and then at the cups. "Oh, I don't know. I think that is the prettiest, perhaps," he said, indicating an eggshell cup.

"Your taste hasn't changed, then. That is the one you gave me when my engagement was announced," she said gayly. And he endeavored to appear comfortable, although he knew his face was growing red.

Later on, as he rose to go, his hostess said:

"What do you think of that picture over the mantel? I've seen you looking at it a number of times."

"I wasn't looking at that," said this luckless guest. "It's very fine, but I was looking at the smaller one on the left. It's a curious thing, isn't it? Yet there's a sort of charm about it."

"I fancied you thought so when you sent it to me for a wedding gift," said the bride.—Exchange.

An Autograph Copy.

The man who undertook to cross the continent "on the hurricane deck of a donkey" and earn his expenses as he went was sure to have experiences worth something to himself if not to any one else. He had photographs made of himself and the donkey. These he sold for 25 cents each. At Yonkers his purse was light, and his bills were heavy. He said:

I resolved to rise at dawn and sell enough pictures to pay my bills if I had to sell them at cost. I set to work. By 1 o'clock I had visited every shop, store and Chinese laundry and was talking hoarsely to a corner grocer, who sat on a keg of mackerel sampling limburger cheese. I offered a picture for 15 cents, but the reduction in price did not interest him.

"I vant not a picture at any price!" he declared.

"I lack 15 cents of the amount of my hotel bill," I urged. "I am in dire straits."

His reply was weak, but the cheese was strong enough to help him out. My mental magazine had but a single charge left, and I fired that.

"Isn't it worth 15 cents to know a fool when you see one?"

"Y-e-e-e-s, I dink it ees," answered the man, "and eef you vill write it on the picture I buy him."—Youth's Companion.

The recent marriage of a couple of cripples, each having only half the proper complement of arms and legs, was noted by the press as a "connubial curiosity." But who notes the marriages which occur daily in which both parties are cripples in health.

Crippled health means, as a rule, insufficient nutrition, and lack of nutrition points to disease of the stomach and digestive and nutritive tract. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect nourishment of the body, and so builds it up in sound health and strength.

"I had been a great sufferer from indigestion for the last nine years," writes Mrs. Margaret Stingle, of Owings Mills, Baltimore Co., Md. "I was such a wreck it seemed death was near, but to-day can say I feel like another woman. I have received much and lasting good from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' I have taken twenty-five bottles in all, and followed the advice of Dr. R. V. Pierce, and am happy to say that life is worth living now. A thousand thanks for your treatment."

Do not be cajoled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery" is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the "Discovery."

Use Coulson's Egg Food. . . .

Some people may have an idea that a balanced ration for poultry means only a mixture of grains. Coulson's Balanced Ration Egg Food contains besides grains a certain amount of Capsicum, which is worth at retail 35 cens a pound. It contains sulphate of iron, ginger, and other condiments.

It also contains pure flaxseed meal, worth at drug stores 10 cents a pound; also pure willow charcoal, sold at drug stores at 5 cents an ounce; also charred bone; also pure dried beef blood from eastern packing houses; also fresh ground raw bone; also rich meals, etc.; and all thoroughly mixed together in proper proportion, making the very best food for egg production.

It is so rich that a hen cannot eat as much of it as of ordinary food. It order to manufacture this feed and sell it at such a reasonable price we buy thousands of sacks of grains and meals and the condiments by the ton. If you want your hens to lay plenty of eggs and make money for you, be good to your hens and give them Coulson's Balanced Ration Egg Food. Two thousand sacks of it sold last month.

Price, 1 sack, $1.65; 10-sack lots or more at $1.50 a sack.

Look for the name Coulson on the sack, as some stores may try to sell you something else that they can make more profit on.

Out of the Frying Pan into the Fire.

The action of Mr. Julius Poppe, who took it upon himself to give his assent last Monday to the removal of the five "Meridian hydro-carbon arc lights," set up for trial on the streets some months ago, is creating much comment and amusement.

For three months a majority of the members of the Board of City Trustees had vainly striven to do this very thing in a legal manner, and had been prevented by Chairman Poppe, who simply declared out of order all motions to that end, and when appeal was taken to the house voted himself to sustain his own ruling; and, the vote standing three to two in favor of over-ruling the chair, calmly remarked that "A two-thirds vote being necessary to over-rule the decision, the chair is sustained."

Then, after the Board had adjourned, leaving those "hydro-carbon" lamps still legally on the streets with the Board's approval and permission, Mr. Poppe, without the slightest authority as a member of the Board, instructed the owners to take the lamps down and cart them away. It is patent to any one that Mr. Poppe has again exceeded his authority in this matter. The official minutes of the Trustees show that the lights were accepted on trial by the city, not by Mr. Poppe, and that later a resolution ordering their removal was ruled out of order and the ruling sustained on appeal. Whatever Julius Poppe may have done in his private capacity cuts no figure in the case. Outside the meetings of the Board he has no more power than any other citizen of this town; and in the meetings of the Board he has much less power than he thinks he has.

For some time, Chairman Poppe has regarded himself as "the whole thing" in municipal affairs. Current comment upon his latest indecent exposure of vanity, ignorance, and insolence seems to have given him a hint that the townspeople do not share this enlarged view of Mr. Poppe; and his arrogant assumption of authority in having the lamps removed is an effort to retire from a position that was too warm for comfort.

But Mr. Poppe's flop has merely shifted him from the frying-pan into the fire. His exploit of Monday is the most inexcusable of all his long list of illegal actions, and simply "clinches" the popular demand that he be compelled to recognize the authority of a majority of his fellow Trustees or be removed from office.

ROD. M. SAUL, formerly editor of the Eureka Sunday Letter, has begun the publication of a little monthly magazine and newspaper at Fulton. It is called The Pathfinder, and is devoted chiefly to questions of political and social economy, with several pages given to neighborhood news. Its quality is excellent and its typography neat; but a serious defect is in its subscription price—twenty-five cents a year! Of course, the price can be raised, but it would have been better to start it right.

BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth. Bones must have bone food, blood must have blood food and so on through the list.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses every day give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

Ladies' Aid Society's Entertainments

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church gave its annual entertainments in Union Hall Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. Thursday's program was under the supervision of Miss Minnie Cook, primary teacher in Sonoma public school. It consisted of songs, recitations and fancy drills by the little children of the school, and was much enjoyed.

The concert Friday evening was successfully managed by Miss Claire Hope. Miss Willie Finley of Santa Rosa rendered several beautiful and classical selections on the violin, and showed herself to be a finished artist. Miss Maybelle Craig of San Francisco sang "The Spring, the Spring Has Come Again," and "'Twas April." Miss Craig has a voice of unusual sweetness, and her interpretations were perfect. Miss Ruth Poppe of this place gave two vocal selections that won the admiration of the audience. At the conclusion of the concert refreshments were served in pretty booths. Both entertainments were socially and financially successful.

Wakeful Children.

For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson. 59 N. Tenth St., Harrisburg, Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in the early part of the night, which made it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble, and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach and she slept the whole night through. Two boxes of these Tablets have effected a permanent cure and she is now well and strong. For sale by F. Duhring. *

We sell the greatest of blood purifiers, ACKER'S BLOOD ELIXIR, under a positive guarantee. It will cure all chronic and other blood poisons. If you have eruptions or sores on your body, or are pale, weak or run down, it is just what you need. We refund money if you are not satisfied. 50 cents and $1.00. R. G. Shoults, druggist.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

LIVING FROM HAND TO MOUTH.

It Means Starvation for Some.

An eminent physician of this city recently said: "Very thin people live from hand to mouth, and have little reserve for emergencies." Of course we know of persons whose nature it is to be thin—"born that way," some way, but there is a healthy standard by which a person who knows himself can gauge his good health or poor health. If for any reason he or she is below his or her normal weight, then it is wise to look out for trouble. In case the germs of grippe, typhoid, or consumption gain an entrance to the body they find a fertile field and develop immediately. We can only compare this sudden taking on of disease germs by the thin body, to the fertile field which lays fallow until an unfortunate wind carries the seeds of some wild and worthless plant there and they quickly root and flourish. Almost any grave change in health is at once betrayed by the loss of flesh, which shows most often in the face. This condition almost always co-exists with impoverished blood. A gain of flesh up to a certain point means a rise in other essentials of health; the red corpuscles of the blood are increased, and the color improved. When persons find themselves losing weight they should heed the warning, and use the proper means in time before disease fastens on them. A tonic alterative is needed to digest and assimilate the food.

Cod-Liver Oil was the old fashioned remedy for a run-down system, or a chronic wasting disease. The digestion of the oil is a task for the healthiest stomach, and sensitive stomachs rebel against it. A great improvement in the means employed for the benefit and cure of such cases is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which maintains the nutrition of the body by enabling the person to eat, retain, digest and assimilate food. It overcomes indigestion if present, soothes the cough, and, by its alterative properties, cleanses the blood. All the organs therefore are fed on pure, rich blood; and the person using the "Golden Medical Discovery" gains in flesh and strength. Fever, night-sweats, headache, are dispelled. It is just the remedy for the Consumptive, for the victim of Catarrh of the Lungs, or the sufferer from Bronchitis.

For over a third of a century Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been in common use in this country, been taken by thousands of people and has cured thousands as our file of testimonials will prove—yet no one ever heard of its harming a single person. That is because it is made of purely vegetable ingredients—is scientifically prepared in the Medical Laboratory of the World's Dispensary, at Buffalo, N. Y., under the supervision of Dr. R. V. Pierce.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be cheerfully paid in lawful money of the United States, by the undersigned, proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, if they cannot show the original letters and signatures of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing attesting the superior curative properties of their several medicines, and thus proving the genuineness and reliability of all the multitude of testimonials volunteered by grateful people, in their behalf.

Mr. Roy A. Reed, of Casper, Wyoming, writes: "For eight years I had catarrh of the throat in the very worst form; could hardly speak above a whisper for two years. Tried nearly a dozen patent medicines without relief. I was so discouraged that I just about decided catarrh could not be cured with any medicine. My father, however, advised me to try Dr. Pierce's medicines before giving up. I followed his advice and commenced using the medicine on the twentieth of December. I was surprised to note the result of the first month's treatment. After using six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I was perfectly cured. It has been months since I took the last medicine, and I have not had the least return of my trouble. I have felt beetter during the past two months than for seven winters previous to this time."

Mrs. Lydia James, of Ogdensburg, Wis., writes: "In regard to your medicine will say that the 'Golden Medical Discovery' is a God-send to suffering women. I was sick in bed with liver complaint and kidney disease and fever when I began to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In ten days' time I was so I could begin to get around the house, and gained right along. After that, took about five bottles of it and am sure I would have been in my grave by this time had it not been for this remedy. I would advise all suffering women to use Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Mrs. Robt. Lambden, of Havana, N. Dak., Box 94, writes: "No one can tell how much I suffered with my leg. It was so bad for a year I could hardly walk around to do my work, and at times couldn't even bear the weight of a sheet over me at night, but your medicines cured me. My leg is quite well again. After I had taken two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I began to feel very different and kept getting better. Took nine bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also used Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, and now my leg is as well as it ever was. Am willing every one should know what good your medicines have done, and would advise any one suffering as I did to try the same treatment. I think and feel sure it will help them."

THE REASON.—There is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for purifying the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the life fluid. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands and gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh instead of flabby fat, promotes the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak, nervous people vitality and vigor.

There is no alcohol contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

Too Great a Risk.

In almost every neighborhood some one has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept on hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Documents in each case should be accompanied by a free-will offering of half the fish, not necessarily for publication, but merely as a guarantee of good faith.

Spring Medicine

There is no other season when good medicine is so much needed as in the Spring.

The blood is impure, weak and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples and other eruptions on the face and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength, and want of animation.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Make the blood pure, vigorous and rich, create appetite, give vitality, strength and animation, and cure all eruptions. Have the whole family begin to take them today.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used in our family for some time, and always with good results. Last spring I was all run down and got a bottle of it, and as usual received great benefit." MISS BEULAH BOYCE, Stowe, Vt.

J. CHAUVET HAS MISHAP

With Narrow Escape from Serious Hurt.

It was reported Monday that J Chauvet, the well-known and aged winemaker of Glen Ellen, had been dangerously injured in an accident near Vineburg. Our reporter found that the extent of Mr. Chauvet's hurts had been exaggerated.

It appears that on Sunday afternoon Mr. Chauvet was driving on the county road alongside the California Northwestern railway near Vineburg station. His two little grand-daughters, Adele and Henrietta Chauvet, were with him. His horse took fright at an approaching train, and ran away. Engineer Sam Lewis, seeing the rig ahead, brought the train to a standstill about twenty five yards behind it. At this juncture the frightened horse plunged into a ditch at one side of the road, and Mr. Chauvet and one of the children were thrown out of the cart, the other child still clinging to the seat. Then brakeman House jumped from the train, and ran and seized the horse by the bit. Just then the cart was tipped completely over, and the child pitched out. Quick as a flash, House let go the horse, extended his arms baseball fashion, and caught the girl like a foul fly. The horse tried to run away again, but the agile brakeman dropped the child in a safe place, raced after the animal and caught it the second time.

Mr. Chauvet was unconscious when picked up, but recovered sufficiently to drive to his home at Glen Ellen, where Dr. Crepin gave him the necessary attention. His injuries consist of a contusion of one side of the head and some minor bruises about the body. The children escaped without a scratch.

Tule Land Will Produce Good Crops.

Notwithstanding the dry spell of the past six weeks, the reclaimed tule lands bordering Sonoma creek in the southern part of Sonoma valley will produce excellent crops of hay and grain this year. This is especially true of the Pacific Reclamation Company's ranch, the Cobbs-Island Farm. In fact, all the hay and grain farms on the reclaimed land are looking well and will yield heavily, even though there be no more showers during this month. Hay and grain crops will be light in other parts of the valley.

An Egg Within an Egg.

Charles Dal Pogetto, the village barber, has one of the strangest freaks of nature that we have ever heard of in the poultry world. A hen of his laid an egg one day this week that was fully as large as a turkey's egg. The shell was soft, but thicker than that of the ordinary soft-shell egg. When Mrs Dal Pogetto broke the egg she expected to find within it a double yolk, but was amazed to discover that it contained an egg within an egg—that is to say, an egg of usual size and thickness of shell reposed inside the larger egg.

THOSE HYDRO-CARBONS

The Gasoline Lamps with a Stage Name Will Glimmer No More in Sonoma

The "Meridian hydro-carbon arc lights," as the five gasoline lamps set up on the streets by Trustees Poppe and Breitenbach are pompously styled, are down and out of town at last. This is a surprise to a majority of the Town Trustees, who have not ordered or authorized their removal, and a relief to the townspeople, who are now in no danger of having to pay $100 apiece for them.

It isn't a surprise to Chairman Poppe, though. It seems to have dawned upon him that he made a mistake at the last Board meeting when he arbitrarily and illegally prevented a vote upon a resolution (favored by a majority of the Trustees) ordering the removal of the lamps. The freely-given public comment upon the affair evidently prompted him to advise the "Meridian-Hydro" etc. Company that he believed the jig was up. So a member of the company came to Sonoma, and on Monday, assisted by Poppe's man Pooler, removed the lamps.

The efforts made to thrust these antediluvian monstrosites on the tax-payers of the city was an insult to their intelligence when we consider that Sonoma can be well lighted with incandescent electric lights at a cost of only $50 per month—and that, too, by a company of local business men, who have put their money into the venture for the sole purpose of giving our town an up-to date improvement. When one considers that it would require at least twenty of those so-called "Meridian hydro-carbon arc lights" for the streets, at a first cost of $2,000 and an expense of $75 or $80 a month for labor and fuel to operate them, it is readily seen that, even were they equal to electricity, they would be a poor investment.

It would indeed be biting off our noses to spite our faces, if the town of Sonoma should waste its money on cheap gasoline lamps with expensive names, just because two of the Trustees don't like the electric-light men.

GLEN ELLEN

By Chappie.

Leo Justi visited Napa during the early part of the week.

Mrs. E. M. Cutter and Miss Shirley Cornish spent Wednesday shopping in Sonoma.

Frank J. Heney, a prominent San Francisco lawyer, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ashe at their ranch home near Warfield.

Gus Martens visited his mother here last Sunday. Wednesday he sailed for Alaska. Elmer Lane went on the same steamer.

Ed. Skahan, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Thierkoff, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vandewater are a few of the Glen Ellenites who went to greet the President.

Will Youngman went to Berkeley this week to visit his sister, Miss Helen, and to assist in the students' welcome to President Roosevelt.

W. S. Gilbert, and with him the new directors of the Gilbert Brick Company, whose yard is in the railroad park, are registered at the Riverside Hotel.

The Mervyn Hotel is filling up with guests. Under the management of Mr. and Mrs P. Monahan it is one of the best conducted and most popular summer resorts in the valley.

Away up in the hills a little party of gold hunters are working away—quietly, steadily, but surely. They are well satisfied with their prospects, and feel sure time will reward them bountifully for their faith and works. Their last ore assayed $40 to the ton.

J. A. Haas, Postal Inspector, was here this week to view the rural mail route and examine candidates for positions in the carrier service. William S. Bonbright and Will Youngman were before him to test their qualifications. By the first of July our mail will be delivered daily at our doors.

No grass grows under Dr. C. C. O'Donnell's feet. His extensive machinery for the O'Donnell brick yard has already arrived, and will soon be in place and ready for business. In the near future we shall probably have whole rows of brick buildings instead of wooden ones. The materials for brick-making are as inexhaustible as the energy and push of the promoters.

A pleasant little family party of San Francisco people came here early Sunday morning to have a quiet picnic among the grand scenery of Nun's canyon. They procured a two-seated buggy and a spirited horse and proceeded upon their trip. When opposite Harry Weise's place the lines in some manner became twisted around the horse's nose and caused him to back over a precipice. Horse, rig, luncheon and lady all rolled to the foot of the cliff together, but the children were spilled out about half way down. It is fully fifty feet down that bank, and so steep that it took the united strength of the horse and three stalwart men to drag the rig into the road again. No damage was done to anything or anybody. They lost no time and took no chances on losing their ice-cream by another tumble, but ate it then and there.

CHAPPIE,
Glen Ellen, May 14, 1903.

Railway Not Sold.

"The California Northwestern hasn't been sold, and isn't for sale." So said railroad president Foster in reply to a question by a representative of the INDEX-TRIBUNE.

This declaration is rendered still more significant by the granting of a franchise this week to the California Northwestern people, authorizing them to build into Eureka.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

And Other Matters of Local Interest.

Mrs. G. Gies visited San Francisco Monday.

Miss Monahan of Glen Ellen was in Sonoma Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clark of San Francisco were here Sunday to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Keogh of San Francisco spent Sunday at Orange Lodge.

S. Schocken went down to see Teddy, and spent three days in the metropolis.

Clark Gaines has gone to San Francisco to engage in his occupation of carpenter.

Mrs. Jennie McKinnon will soon leave Sonoma and take up her residence in Alameda.

Thomas MacQuiddy of this place is among the graduates of '03, University of California.

Fred Poulsen and family drove over to Napa Sunday, where they were entertained by friends.

Miss Mabel Thomas is visiting friends in Petaluma, and will be absent from home several weeks.

Guy Weems of San Francisco spent last Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weems of this town.

Mrs. Jacobs of Santa Rosa visited her daughter, Miss Hattie Jacobs, at Agua Caliente Hot Springs last Sunday.

R. G. Shoults and G. Hotz were among the Sonoma business men who went to San Francisco during President Roosevelt's stay there.

Mrs. Rose Lane and her son Charles took the Sunday afternoon train for the city, where they remained until the following Tuesday.

Miss Dottie Robinson returned to San Francisco Monday, after a visit of several weeks with her cousin, Mrs. M. J. Haraszthy, at El Verano.

Mrs. L. Becthel and daughter, of San Francisco, were at El Verano Sunday, to visit Mr. Becthel, who is staying there to recuperate his health.

Mrs. Kate Ryan, mother of deputy sheriff Ryan of this place, who has been dangerously ill at her home in Benicia, is pronounced out of danger by her physician.

Oscar E. Roseberg, manager and secretary of the Eagle Brewing Co. of San Francisco, is here for a two weeks' vacation, accompanied by his wife and little son. They are registered at the Toscano Hotel.

A Druidic Circle will be instituted in this place on Friday evening, May 22d, with a charter membership of thirty, composed principally of the wives and daughters of members of Sonoma Grove, No. 75.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Small were in San Francisco several days this week attending the session of the Grand Lodges of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. Mr. Small is a delegate from Sonoma Lodge, No. 28, and Mrs. Small from Verdant Rebekah Degree Lodge.

The opening entertainment and dance at the California Hot Springs last Saturday evening was a big success. The beautiful grounds surrounding the hotel were illuminated by hundreds of Japanese lanterns, and the dance platform was artistically decorated with locust flowers and roses. A choice program was rendered, and dancing followed. At 11:30 supper was served in the large dining room, after which dancing was resumed and continued until morning. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Richards, the estimable proprietors, deserve credit for making this such a delightful affair.

Jim Dumps gazed out on sidewalks hot
And looked in vain for one cool spot;
And vowed he ne'er again would eat
A lunch of heat-producing meat.
Once more has "Force" restored his vim,
Although 'tis hot, he's "Sunny Jim."

"'Force' is a blessing to hot humanity. I find since eating it—and I want it every morning—that I am able to go through a hot day with much more comfort than when I used to eat hearty meat breakfasts. It has taught me how to live.

Mrs. Robert Poppe and daughter, Miss Emily, returned Wednesday from San Francisco, after several days' sight-seeing.

Mrs. Susie T. Enos, Mrs. Dorman and Miss Doris Dorman drove to Santa Rosa last Sunday, where they were guests at the Grand Hotel.

Mrs. Geo. Hooper of San Francisco, accompanied by her infant son, is visiting her mother and sister at the Harris home on Broadway.

Mrs. Clarence Nauman came up from the city Thursday evening and will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. A. Bates, until Monday afternoon.

A. W. Weaver was one of the many visitors who took Monday morning's Southern Pacific train for the city to witness the reception of President Roosevelt.

B. F. Campbell left for San Francisco yesterday morning where he will meet and welcome his daughter in-law, Mrs. Oscar Campbell, who arrived from Manila in the afternoon. Mrs. Campbell is en route to Los Angeles, where she will visit with her parents.

The engagement of Miss Claire Hope and Wm. Hyde has been announced. The wedding will take place the latter part of July. Miss Hope is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Valentine Hope and a beautiful and accomplished young woman. Mr. Hyde, is the son of W. H. Hyde, a wealthy Sonoma Valley farmer, and a prosperous young business man of the metropolis, who has lately fallen heir to a comfortable fortune. A wedding trip to Europe will follow the nuptials of this young couple.

Schellville News Items.

Clayton Pauli spent Sunday with relatives here.

Misses Marcella Glazier and Zarifa Howe spent Sunday in Napa.

Mr. Robert Hall was a visitor in the Bay City several days this week.

W. B. Walkup of San Francisco was a guest at Eden Dale on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rowell (nee Pauli, were guests at Locust Grove several days this week.

Carpenters have been making improvements at Mr. MacMackin's residence during the past week.

Mr. Franklin K. Lane, city and county attorney of San Francisco and recent Democratic candidate for governor, spent Saturday and Sunday with his friends at Locust Grove.

The pupils of San Luis school had a picnic at Maxwell's grove, Saturday, with their relatives and friends. They met at the schoolhouse, where a large farm-wagon that they had decorated was waiting to convey them to the grove. They had many races at the picnic—sack races, three-leg ed races, two-legged races and egg and-spoon races. The following pupils won prizes: Mamie Bosch, Peter Bosch, Alice Church and Leland Volquardsen. The young men's race was won by George Lewis, and the women's race by Miss Anna Steiger.

EL VERANO.

By Happy Hooligan

A. C. Chance was in San Francisco Tuesday.

M. Murphy of San Francisco spent Sunday at Lone Star camp.

Mrs. M. F. Mullen and her little daughter Nora were in the metropolis Monday.

Jos. Dowdall was a passenger on Tuesday's Southern Pacific train en route to Alameda.

Billy Chance, the well known tiller of the soil, went to San Francisco Sunday afternoon.

An "easy mark" blew into town Sunday. Oh, my! but he is easy and a Klondike for the 'Frisco summer girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Boyle of San Francisco, who were in town Sunday, intend spending the summer at one of our resorts.

Miss Anna Bennett and Mrs. Sadler of San Francisco were the guests of Miss Helen Monroe and Mrs. Hodge last week at the Hotel Bellevue.

A. W. Weaver will leave Sunday for his mine in Tuolumne county. We wish Al. good luck, and hope this time he will bring back something more than a small nugget.

Ah Chung, foreman of the C. T. Wilkinson farm, was a visitor to San Francisco Tuesday. Ah Chung is a native-born American, and of course thought he should see the head of the nation.

L. McDonough, the well-known sea captain, who has been a guest at the El Verano Villa the past six months, returned from San Francisco last Tuesday evening after a visit of several days with city friends.

Pat Dwyer of San Francisco was at Lone Star Camp this week and was by many mistaken for President Roosevelt. Mr. Dwyer finds this place to his liking, and the diet even more so—

A plate of pork and beans beneath the bough,
A jug of wine, another plate of beans, and

Detective Thos. Mau, one of San Francisco's "finest," was a distinguished visitor here this week. He was thirsty when he arrived, but he doesn't like artesian water, and so used nice, new red wine to wash the inside of his neck. Hallucinations followed. He thought he was in San Francisco, and that Scannus, the piano player, was a fugitive from justice. He chased Scannus up into the hills, and came to town completely exhausted. We shall elect Mau poundmaster if he will remain here.

BETTER THAN PILLS.

The Gymnasium Has Cured Many a Case of Dyspepsia.

William H. Evarts used to boast that he had never even looked into a gymnasium, which was his way of saying that in his opinion gymnastics were all nonsense. "People say to me, 'Mr Evarts, you're hale and hearty when you ought to be thinking of your grave,' and they wonder how I do it."

Of course the secret of the haleness and the heartiness was temperance—moderation, says the New York News No man who goes to bed on a supper of mince pie and Welsh rabbit and wakes up for a breakfast of sausage and buckwheat cakes and then spends most of the day twisting from one side of a desk to the other can long avoid the prescription of hot water thrice a day before meals. "Temperance" is one of the words that are ridiculed until they impress themselves upon giddy humanity with the effect of a branding iron.

Some happy mortals like Mr. Evarts have no use for a gymnasium, for they find gymnastic apparatus everywhere. The street is their half mile track; the two flights of steps—or maybe ten flights—are the lung developers; the free and vigorous swing of the arms and the throwing out of the chest are as good as parallel bars.

There are men somewhat intemperate in their temperance, displaying too much of the good thing. They crack your knuckles when they take you by the hand; they pound you on the back as if a fishbone were stuck in your throat, and say, "Brace up, old man: you'll be round shouldered if you don't take care."

But there is this to be said in favor of the gymnasium—it has cured many a case of dyspepsia and to that extent has made the world sweeter.

DOING A GREAT DEED.

How Phillips Brooks Sobered Down a Too Aspiring Youth.

When Boston's great preacher, Phillips Brooks, was a student at college, he decided to enter the ministry. His instructors advised him against this step because of an impediment in speech. "The professors had all the argument on their side," said the famous clergyman years after when by patient effort he had gained control of his voice, "but naturally I could not protest, for words failed me."

To this preacher's study there came one day a youth, physically perfect, ambitious for honor and looking for a short cut up the road to success. He intimated that he wished to do some great thing better than it could be done by any one else.

Phillips Brooks wrote rapidly upon a piece of paper while his visitor was speaking, sealed it in an envelope and then suggested that the note be read when the man reached home. The letter read: "Stand in the moonlight and you will cast a shadow. No man can cast a shadow just like it."

The young man realized that the preacher had made his honest ambition seem ridiculous, but made another attempt. On the original letter he wrote, "Possible, but I desire that the deed I do be of benefit to my fellow men."

Back came the original letter, with these words added: "Then stand in the sunlight and permit the workingman to eat his lunch in your shadow."

All Happens In a Second.

A second is the smallest division of time in general use, and when we consider that in one year there are about 31,558,000 of these periods it would certainly seem as if it was enough for all practical purposes. But, after all, a good deal can happen in the fraction of a second.

A light wave, for instance, passes through a distance of about 186,000 miles in this length of time. A current of electricity has probably an even greater speed. The earth in itself moves in its orbit at a rate of about twenty miles a second.

A tuning fork of the French standard vibrates 870 times per second to produce the note A on the treble staff.

May and December.

Our great-grandfathers had a way of announcing marriage ceremonies which would hardly find favor nowadays. The following cases in point have been unearthed:

"On Aug. 22, 1782, at Bath, Captain Hamilton, aged twenty-eight, married Mrs. Monson, an aged lady of eighty-six, but possessing rank and much wealth."

"Robert Judge of Cooksborough, Ireland, aged ninety-five, to Miss Annie Nugent, aged fifteen. Robert Judge was an officer in King William's army and was wounded in the nose."—London Express.

Oddities of Love.

He—I don't know how it is, but I've noticed it is the girl who puzzles all the other girls "what he could have seen in her" who is the first to get married.

She—And it is the man that the girls say they wouldn't have if he were the last man on earth who has his pick of all the pretty girls in town.—Boston Transcript.

Imperative.

Schoolmaster—Now, Jones, give me a sentence, and then we will see if we can change it to the imperative form.

Pupil—The horse draws the wagon.

Schoolmaster—Now put it in the imperative.

Pupil—Gee up!—Chums.

Nothing more completely baffles one who is full of trick and duplicity than straightforward and simple integrity in another.—Cotton.

DEAFNESS CURED

190-page Book Free---Tells all About It.

Since the discovery Louisvilleo f a man it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trumpet, a tube or any such old-fashioned device, for it is now possible for any one to hear perfectly by a simple invention that fits in the ear and cannot be detected. The honor belongs to Mr. Geo. H. Wilson of Louisville, who was himself deaf, and now hears as well as any one. He calls it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, is built on the strictest scientific principles, containing no metal of any kind, and is entirely new in every respect. It is so small that no one can see it, but nevertheless it collects all sound waves and diverts them against the drum he d, causing you to hear perfectly. It will do this even when the natural ear drums are partially or entirely destroyed, perforated, scarred, relaxed or thickened. It fits any ear from childhood to old age, and aside from the fact that it does not show, it never causes the hearer irritation, and can be used with comfort day or night.

It will cure deafness in any person no matter how acquired, whether from catarrh, scarlet fever, typhoid or brain fever, measles, whooping cough, gathering in the ear, shocks from artillery or through accidents. It not only cures but stays the progress of deafness and all roaring and buzzing noises It does this in a simple, sure and scientific way. The effect is immediate.

Let every person who needs this, at once send to the company for its 190-page book, which you can have free. It describes and illustrates Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums and contains many bona fide letters from numerous users in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, India. These letters are from people in every station of life, clergymen, physicians, lawyers, merchants, society ladies, etc., and tell the truth about the benefits to be derived from the use of this wonderful little device. You will find among them the names of people in your own town or State, and you are at liberty to write to any of them you wish and secure their opinion as to the merits of the only scientific ear drums for restoring the hearing to its normal condition.

Write to-day and it will not be long before you are again hearing. Address, for the free book and convincing evidence, Wilson Ear Drum Co., Todd Building, Louisville, Ky., U. S. N.
